

MIKROCLIMA The all year round crop cover

Manufactured in Italy, Mikroclima is knitted from thin strips of strong - but very light - transparent UV stabilised polyethylene thread. Mikroclima is ideal to protect crops and trees from cold weather and birds. Mikroclima is permeable to air and water creating an ideal growing environment. It retains its strength when wet or frosty and resists unraveling or tearing. If care is taken in the handling and storing of Mikroclima it will last several years.

Mikroclima weighs approx. 35 grams/sqm, provides shading of around 16% and frost protection of 2-4°.

Commercial Growers use Mikroclima directly on many crops such as winter lettuce, silverbeet and radish to protect from cold weather and birds, to shorten time until harvest and to extend the growing season. Frames or cloches can be used to raise the cover over more valuable crops such as peppers, melons and ground tomatoes.

Nurseries and Garden Centres use Mikroclima either as a throw over protective cover or fixed over frames or cloche hoops to give protection from cold winds and frosts. Plants nurtured in a more protected or heated environment may be placed under Mikroclima to 'harden up' in a semi protected environment before sale to the public.

Flower Growers use Mikroclima for protection from cold and frost, either over structures or hoops or as a thermal blanket installed inside a glass or plastic house to, defuse light, slow down heat loss and reduce condensation.

Mikroclima is available in roll sizes: 2m x 100m, 2m x 500m, 3m x 100m, 3m x 500m, 4m x 100m, 4m x 250m, 6m x 100m, 8m x 100m, 8m x 200m, 12m x 100m and 16m x 100m.

Sidenet is a bird net for the protection of commercial grapevines. The very cost effective, lightweight, flat filament netting is attached to both sides of the vine creating a protective envelope around valuable fruit.

The advantages include ease of application and removal, improved grape development and significantly lower costs.

Although designed specifically for grapevines Sidenet can also be used to wrap trees & bushes, over simple cloches or directly on ground crops.
